The Sanginjoki camping area is a large and vast nature attraction. The area also contains the Lemmenpolku fishing trail, rest shelters and campfire spots. The main info board is situated at the rest stop at Kontiokoski, at Sanginjoentie.

ISOKANKAAN KIERROS TRAIL 10 KM

Driving instructions: turn from Kuusamontie to Vaalantie, drive for about 7 kilometres and turn left to Sanginjoentie. Drive for about 12 kilometres and turn left to the Isokangas forest road.

The area is mostly dry pine heath, but the forest around Isokangas lake is dominated by lush spruce trees. This area boasts a large population of wilderness fauna. There is a 2.5 hectare area of forest, Asmonkorpi, on the south-western side of the Isokangas lake, through which the Isokangas trail passes.

In the Oulu region, Isokangas is the most noteworthy preserved ridge formation, shaped and sculpted by wind and time. The soil mainly consists of material sorted by glacial rivers during the melting of the continental glaciers. Long stretches of beach formations remind us of a time when the sea stretched up to lick the edges of Isokangas, while the wind made dunes out of sand onto the side facing the sea.

Isokankaanjärvi is a small, humus-rich lake with marshy banks and dark waters. The shores of the lake are ringed with sedges and other plants. The Isokangas trail meanders through the ridge. The route crosses the forest road in several places. There are also two campfire spots on the trail, complete with lean-to shelters. The firewood is stocked frequently, but may temporarily run out during peak months. You can bring your own firewood to ensure that you have enough for a campfire.

SANGINJOKI GAME TRAIL, 2 KM

Turn from Kuusamontie to Vaalantie (road 8300), drive for 10.5 kilometres, turn left to Sanginjoentie. Drive for 10.5 kilometres and turn left to Korpiselantie, then turn left to the forest road right after the Loppula house.

The trail circles the Korpilampi pond. Info boards on the route describe how to combine game and forest management. There is a campfire spot and a lean-to shelter along the trail.
The Myllykoski starting point: turn from Kuusamon-tie to Vaalantie (road 8300), drive for about 7 kilometres and turn left to Sanginjoentie. Drive for about 8.5 kilometers and turn left to Kuparisenpolku. The Myllykoski starting point’s parking area is located at the end of Kuparisenpolku.

The Kalimeenlampi starting point: turn from Kuusamontie to Ylikiimingintie (road 833), drive for about 10.5 kilometres and turn right to Kalimeenlammentie. After about 1.5 kilometres, turn right to Korpiseläntie.

The Kalimeenkierrros route circles the Kalimeenlampi pond and the small stream flowing from it. On the route, you can learn about ancient means of hunting. The route circles the pond through the north to the banks of the Kalimenoja stream, and from there towards the South to Iso Polvikangas. The route intersects with the forest road in several spots.
