

- 1. What are your thoughts around Jessica's and Anna's course. Do you have some ideas for how they could change the course to get the students to engage more with the social entrepreneurs?

- 2. How can Jessica and Anna encourage/lead their students to engage more with the challenging aspects of social entrepreneurship, such as ethical dilemmas and complicated real-world problems?

- 3. Could you share one or a few examples on how you have been working as a teacher to get students to shift mindset or to open up for new ideas and perspectives?
